As a donor community, Spartan Women and Philanthropy represents a variety of ages, personal interests, and life stories. They hope to inspire and empower all Spartan women to make a difference by investing in people and the transformational work of the university. Such work requires a constellation of efforts in key areas which are all connected through W&P's core pillar of philanthropy and are equally supported through the service, engagement, and regional networking of MSU’s Spartan Women. Learn more: go.msu.edu/women philanthropy.